Chicago, April 30, 2009, NASA Midwest, Inc.

NASA Midwest is pleased to announce Geff Sawtelle as the new Series Director of the Time Trials Series in the Midwest Region.

"I have truly enjoyed working my way through HPDE, Time Trials and my recent Competition School over the past several seasons. Besides NASA Time Trials being the premiere series of its genre, Time Trial drivers are an exciting bunch of people from all walks of life. I'm looking forward to improving the driving experience and growing NASA Time Trials in the Midwest Region", said Geff.

"I am excited to have Geff on board. We first met while assembling a tent for the Time Trial download meetings at the 2007 NASA Championships. I knew then Geff was destined for great things, as his willingness to jump in and help, great attitude and wanting to be part of the team made him someone to take note of. Time Trials and its drivers are in good hands." said Bryan Cohn, Director of Competition for NASA Midwest, Inc.

Geff took the helm at Road America April 25-26 with guidance from past Time Trial Series Director Bill Marquardt, and will step full time into the role starting May 1.
